REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES.

BRIEF SKETCHES OF THE LIVES OF THE MEN NOMINATED AT DOYLESTOWN CONVENTION.

IRVIN AARON.

The Republican nominee for State Senator, Irvin Aaron, of Yardley, was born in Hilltown, April 22, 1842. In 1861 he went to Montgomery county, after a year coming to Johnsville, this county, working at farming for seventeen years. He then received an appointment as deputy sheriff, entering upon his duties the first Monday in January, 1879, serving under Samuel B Ely for three years For four years he was a traveling salesman During 1886 and 1887 he served as deputy for Sheriff Elias Eastburn, serving the next four years under Joseph R. Comly In the fall of 1890 he was the Republican candidate for sheriff, but owing to the Delamater slump was defeated by J. Johnson Beans In the spring of 1891 he formed a partnership with Joseph R. Comly, and they started a prosperous coal and lumber business at Yardley. In 1896 he defeated the Democratic nominee for sheriff, William Seiner, by an overwhelming majority of 2806 His term as sheriff expired in 1900, when B. Frank Hobensack was elected In the three years past he has been engaged in business at Yardley. He is a member of Aquetong Lodge, No. 193, I. O. O. F of Doylestown

GEORGE W. STRAUSER

George W. Strauser, of Bristol, nominee for Assembly, Lower District, was born at Catawissa, Columbia county, living there until he was fourteen years old, when he footed it across the mountains to Pottsville, where he enlisted in the 191st Regiment. When seventeen years old he came to Bristol, living here continuously ever since, being a salesman for a Philadelphia wholesale drug house. For four years he was a member of Bristol council, and served as president of that body

CHRISTOPHER S GULICK

Christopher S Gulick for Assembly, Upper District was born in Hilltown, where he received his early education When nineteen years old he began teaching and taught one year in Bedminster and ten in his native township In 1895 he was elected Register of Wills, serving with credit until January 1, 1899. In 1889 he was Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue for Bucks county. In 1894 he embarked in the mercantile business with W H. Leidy, the partnership being dissolved two years later. He has served as State and county delegate many times and was elected Justice of the Peace in 1885 serving until he was named Deputy Revenue Collector He is a member of MacCalla Lodge, F & A M, of Sellersville; Doylestown Chapter, R A M; Perkasie Lodge, I. O O F., and Doylestown Encampment, I. O O. F.

WARREN F. CRESSMAN.

Warren F Cressman, the nominee for Assembly, Upper District, is a son of Harry S Cressman, of Sellersville He was born in 1872 and has ever since had his home in Sellersville His early education he received in the Sellersville schools. He taught school one year and then entered Lehigh University, graduating as a civil engineer with the class of 1893. He is borough engineer for Sellersville, Silverdale and Hatfield. Among the first and probably the most critical of his engineering feats was the building of the Sellersville water works. Later he built the water systems at Souderton and Hellertown. When the Inland Traction Company's line was projected, the engineering work was assigned to Mr Cressman. He made the surveys and plans and had charge of the construction of the line from Perkasie to North Wales Later he made complete surveys from Allentown to Chestnut Hill and Norristown for the Philadelphia and Lehigh Valley Traction Company. Following this he made surveys and plans for the Doylestown and Easton Railway Company from Doylestown to Easton and from Danboro to Point Pleasant In 1894 he was elected Justice of the Peace on the Republican ticket, being only 22 years old at the time.

GEORGE W. RADCLIFF

George W. Radcliff, of Buckingham, the nominee for Clerk of Orphan's Court, has served as member of the Republican county committee for many years. He has lived in that township for a long time. Only once before had he sought a public office. That was in 1899 when he withdrew from the race for the Recordership nomination in favor of the present official, Burroughs Michener, of Mechanicsville. Mr. Radcliff is a native of Buckingham who has become well known all over the county

JONATHAN A. TWINING

Jonathan A. Twining, the nominee for County Commissioner from the Third District, was born and has lived all his life in Wrightstown township, and followed farming. Three years ago he was nominated for County Auditor by the Republican convention without asking for the position, and when the polls closed it was found he had received nearly the entire Democratic vote of his township. For twelve consecutive years he has served as school director of Wrightstown township, is a director of the Danboro Live Stock Insurance Company and the Langhorne Wind and Storm Insurance Company.

HENRY H. SOUDER.

Henry H. Souder, who was nominated for High Sheriff of Bucks county, is a native of Montgomery county. He is 53 years of age and was born in Souderton He early acquired a business education having assisted his father in the lumber and coal business. Later he conducted a saw and planing mill. About seventeen years ago Mr. Souder purchased the Bush House, one of the leading hotels in Quakertown, which well known hostelry he has conducted ever since. He has always been active in political affairs but has never been a candidate for office.

JAMES BARCLAY.

James Barclay, Jr., nominee for Clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions, is a native of Plumstead township. He is about 60 years of age and was born on the farm near Dyerstown where he now resides, and has always followed farming as an occupation. When the call came for volunteers during the Civil War Mr. Barclay enlisted in the three months service. His ancestors were among the early settlers of Pennsylvania having settled in what is now Warrington township in 1730. Mr. Barclay has always been an active Republican although never before seeking any office. His father, James Barclay, Sr., was a staunch friend and supporter of Simon Cameron during and after the war times, and his mother was a daughter of the well known Dyer family.

ALFRED LAUBACH.

Alfred Laubach was born in Springfield township near where he now lives, about 45 years ago, and is a son of Samuel E. Laubach. He attened the Franklin public school, where he received his education. All his life he has been engaged in farming and has been successful. Although he always took an interest in politics Mr. Laubach has never held any public office.

R. MONROE STOUT.

R. Monroe Stout, of Southampton, one of the nominees for County Auditor, is a contractor and builder of Philadelphia. He resides in Southampton and goes to the city every day. He is a son of W. Harry Stout, who for many years has conducted a general store and been postmaster at Southampton. He is about 32 years of age, but has never held any public office.

EZRA MICHENER.

Ezra Michener, of Solebury, one of the nominees for County Auditor, was born in Buckingham, near where he has spent his whole life He attended the Excelsior Normal Institute at Carversville. He has been engaged at farming all his life, making a speciality of high grade cattle. He was the owner of the celebrated cow Annie Marshall, which took first prize at the Pan-American Exposition as a butter producer Mr Michener is the son of the late Dr Isaiah Michener, and is one of the best citizens of Solebury. For some years he was president of the School Directors' Association of Bucks county. He has been a member of the school board several years, and is a prominent member of the American Guernsey Association.

HUGH B WEBSTER.

Hugh B. Webster, nominee for a third term as Director of the Poor is a representative farmer of Middletown township. He was born in Bensalem township December 28, 1838, being a son of Jesse G. and Sarah (Williams) Webster, who were of English descent Mr Webster from his youth up was engaged in agricultural pursuits, and farm 1858 to 1885 carried on the butchering business in connection with farming. He makes a speciality of raising fine grade cattle, and is also engaged in raising poultry. He resided on his farm until 1885, when he removed to Hulmeville, but still carries on farming. In 1875 he married Sarah Maitland, who was at one time a successful school teacher, and have two children, Jesse G. and Rachel E. Mr Webster is an enterprising and energetic business man and has made an excellent official as a member of thne board of Directors of the Poor.

NEWPORTVILLE.

Dr Horace Fleckenstine is collector for school taxes.

No services were held in Ascension Chapel on Sunday afternoon last.

Miss Linda Garsed, of Bensalem township, was a Sunday visitor in town

William Deenihan and wife were visiting in Philadelphia on Saturday and Sunday.

The home team was defeated by the Emilie B B. Club on Saturday afternoon last.

Quite a number from here attended the Democratic Convention at Doylestown on Monday.

John Reed, formerly of this place, was visiting Edward Betz and wife on Wednesday last.

Miss Hannah Savacool and mother, of Trenton, N. J, were Sunday visitors at this place.

Several of our young men talk of going to Florida for the winter. But we guess it will be all talk.

Frank Black and daughter, of Emilie, were Saturday visitors in this place. They took in the ball game.

Miss Katherine Higgins has returned from Shenandoah, and is now teaching school again in this place.

Joseph Cummons is building new fences and making other repairs to the property occupied by Thomas Moffett.

Landlord Dennis Dugan was visiting at Lansford up in the coal regions last week. He reports things quiet up there

Supervisor C. T Headley expects the stone for the roads to arrive as soon as the canal is repaired at New Hope.

If the Union Party in this county meet with as cold a reception as they did in Chester it will be poor encouragement for them

Preston Vanhorn, of Brooklyn, N. Y., Albert Vanhorn, of Lambertville, N. J, and William Vanhorn, of Trenton, N. J, were visiting Samuel Goslin and wife last week.

Morris D Harrison, a prominent Bristol politician and school director, and his brother Joseph, formerly of this township, were visiting old friends in this place on Sunday.

If you wish a good job of paper hanging or painting done Charles Slemmer is the man who will attend to it. He has made good jobs painting the Delaware and Newportville schools.

Miss Ella Day Blair, Miss Mitchell with Mr DeB. Keim and Augustus Pleasanton, of Edgewater Park, stopped off to visit Dr. Henry Birkey and family on their way in their canoes to Neshaminy Falls.

Our committeeman, John W. Birkey, although a machinist and engineer, is also somewhat of a farmer and has raised several tomatoes that weigh 1½ pounds each. We would like to hear from others.

Dr James Patterson holds the gunning record of Laurel Bend, having in the brief time of 2 hours shot 3 dozen reed birds and 1 dozen rail. Dr. says he is a little old, but can hold his own with the young when it comes to gunning Bromley Wharton, Esq., holds the fishing record of West Bristol township. One day last week he caught 6 dozen red-belly sunfish, 3 dozen blue-nose catfish and 3 Irish carp. Time 1 hour and 20 minutes Dr. Henry Birkey and Gus Knight, who were with him were left out of sight.

William Emslie Krewson met with an accident yesterday. As he was opening a bottle of root beer the bottle exploded and his hand was badly cut by the flying glass. Under the skillful treatment of Dr. Fleckenstine he is getting along nicely under the circumstances.

Charles Eastburn, who made a great speech in nominating ex-Sheriff Aaron for Senator, was considered by all who heard it the best speech at the Doylestown convention. But Captain Snyder, of this place, when he delivered his patriotic speech at the railroad station outclassed him.

The action of the voters of West Bristol township by their vote at the Republican convention at Doylestown shows the strength of the regular ticket in the township and that the time has passed when disappointed office seekers can disturb the peace which now so unanimously prevails in the party.

Among the visitor at Way Side farm, Midway, last week were: Mr. and Mrs. B. Frank Bresford, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rush, Misses Mabel and Lillian Rush, of Elizabeth, N. J.; Mrs. Samuel George, Miss Elva George, Mrs. Albert Cummons, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Fred Gilkeson and son, of Bristol, and Mrs. Annie Carey, of Midway.

Speer's Socialite Claret is made from a combination of the Oporto Grapes gathered before they raisin with other grapes and mixed in the masher previous to pressing. This is a fine dry wine—and extensively used as a fine table wine for dinner.

The Burgundy Wine is made entirely from the Oporto Grape gathered and pressed before they raisin, and is a dry wine but more rich and heavy than the Claret, those two wines are considered by connoisseurs as equal if not superior to any wines in the world.

Ely's Liquid Cream Balm is an old friend in a new form. It is prepared for the particular benefit of sufferers from nasal catarrh who are used to an atomizer in spraying the diseased membranes. All the healing and soothing properties of Cream Balm are retained in the new preparation. It does not dry up the secretions. Price, including spraying tube, 75 cents. At your druggists or Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York, will mail it.

News of the County

Special Correspondence from Near-by Towns

DOYLESTOWN.

Coal dealers have been busy the last few days filling the bins of customers who feared that the strike might be continued for an indifinite period. Doylestown has not felt the coal famine as severely as other places and there has been no disposition to squeeze purchasers. Coal has ranged from $7 to $9 for chestnut and stove coal but the supply is now getting short and prices may advance. One dealer believes, however, that the top price has been reached.

Col. Gilkeson, Joseph S. Thomas, of the Gazette, and Postmaster Minster, of Bristol, came to Doylestown Monday to see what a real, machine-managed convention is like. They saw the Democratic ticket put through in sections, some willing and others unwilling, but all forced to accept nominations and stand for defeat. They are now trying to decide which form of bossism is more reprehensible, that of keeping a man off a ticket upon which he would like a place or pinning to a ticket some poor devil kicking and screaming as though being dragged to an electric chair. At the Democratic convention they saw both phases exhibited.

A matter that has occasioned some surprise is the return of the Doylestown Intelligencer to its party. The Intelligencer has so long held that party papers are worthless and has been so aggressive in its opposition to the Republican party and its leaders in this county and State that its sudden change of policy has occasioned consideable comment, which is to the effect that the Intelligencer did not find its former theories correct or profitable. Its desertion of what has been known as the insurgent element in the party leaves that faction without representation at the county seat in spite of the fact that some of them have money in the paper, but Republicans are glad that the Intelligencer has seen the error of its ways and will now support its party.

Since the great "boss-ridden" Republican convention nominated its "slated" ticket, many Republicans have been anxious to know how it suits the party. Here at the county seat, at least, it is regarded as a strong ticket. It is believed that the fuss made over matters of minor importance was out of all proportion to the real issues. Republicans concede that the nominees are citizens of the highest standing, men who can be fully trusted as legislators or county officials, and they see no reason to desert them on account of the political quarrels of individuals. They also know that when the 3000 representatives of their party assembled here it was not for the purpose of depriving any Republican of his rights, but to nominate the men of their choice, a right every Republican is privileged to exercise. Therefore, as time passes, the talk of packed conventions and slated tickets grows less while comment favorable to the nominees increases.

Now that the two party tickets in Bucks are named things seem to be running along in the usual way. Several Republicans here are convinced that an effort will be made by the Rice or Edwards factions to effect fusion with the Democrats but the latter do not appear to be much concerned over the suggestion Some of them say a project of that character might be entertained if they are offered big odds with other conditions favorable, but in Doylestown, at least, Democrats are not enthusiastic in the matter. It is the opinion of many Republicans and Democrats alike that any effort in the direction of fusion would arouse great indignation in the Republican camp for the reason that both Rice and Edwards have been treated with every consideration by their party and are not in the position of men who have never enjoyed the party's favor. It would be an uphill job for either to go about the county asking Republicans to cut men like Aaron, Cressman, Gulick and Strauser because they failed to secure the nomination for reelection. The more Republicans consider this matter the more indignant they become. Here are two men, one regarded as a Quayite at one period and anti-Quay at another, both in office at the present time and claiming that the party owes them still more in the face of the fact that none of the present nominees have held a legislative office and but two of them county offices, to say nothing of the rotation rule that gave the Senatorial nomination to the lower end It is a pretty cheeky proposition in the opinion of a majority of Republicans and if fusion is attempted the votes will demonstrate it.

A man talks about owning his business. But, as a matter of fact his business owns him. His whole life is regulated by the demands of the business. The time at which he rises, his breakfast hour, the time given to meals, are all determined by business obligations. He rushes through lunch because he "can't spare the time from business" to eat leisurely. He won't take a rest because he is needed at the store or office. He is in fact an absolute slave to business. The results which follow his slavery are to be seen on every hand. Men dyspeptic, irritable, nervous, with drawn faces, and hollow eyes, sit at the desk or stand behind the counter until they collapse in a fit of sickness, or are taken away by heart failure. Those who cannot escape the exactions of business will find a friend in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It strengthens the stomach, increases the action of the blood-making glands, increasing the vitality and physical vigor. It makes men strong and prevents those business break downs which so often terminate fatally.

Insincerity.

Beware of the beginnings of insincerity. They are the little rifts in the lute that by and by will silence all. Who knows how many loves and friendships have died of slow poisoning by little drops of deceit? Candor and straightforwardness can be brutally honest, but the roughness passes and the truth stays. Truth is the friend of love. Concealment, evasions, duplicities, may be sugared over with amenities and even pass for pleasantries; but the sweet coating one day is gone and dishonesty is left to benumb and paralyze the heart. The smallest lie is the foe of love.

Clothing.

Will you look at our stock of clothing? Some facts. Look at these prices: Men's suits, black cheviot, $5.00—good value. Mixed cheviots, $6.75, worth $8.00; $7.00, worth $9.00; $8.00, worth $10.00; $10.00, worth $12.50; $12.00, worth $15; $18.00, worth $18.00. Spring overcoats, $10, This is our price; why pay $12 in the city for the same style coat? You had better save this $2. Also a full line of boys' and childrens' clothing. Hats, caps, and gent's furnishing goods. Johnson Bros., Cor. Mill and Wood streets, Bristol, Pa.

Leo Craig, of Trenton, was seriously injured on the new bridge works on Monday. While working around one of the coffer dams he lost his footing and fell into the hole. He was taken to Dr. Woodman's office, where his wounds were dressed and later removed to his home.

The base ball team suffered another defeat last Saturday when they crossed bats with an aggregation of tossers from Hopewell. A gold brick, named Rhubart, filled the box for the home team and was sent to the scrap heap, like all such merchandise. The final score was 7 to 6 The local team will journey to Hopewell on Saturday in order to get revenge.

Work on the new factory of the Vulcanized Rubber Co. was resumed Wednesday after being stopped for over a week by the death of Contractor John A. Schmitt. Mr. Schimt, who resided in Wilkesbarre, was injured in an accident in a mine shaft last week. He had entered a bucket to be lowered to the bottom of the shaft, when instead of lowering the bucket the engineer started to raise it and drew it up against the drum. Mr. Schmitt realized his danger and grabbed the rope just as it parted. He was drawn over the drum but clung to the rope and wooden supports at the top of the shaft house until rescued by his men. His back was badly injured and his lower limbs paralyzed. His physicians held strong hopes of his recovery when peritonetis set in and in a short time death ensued.

PENN'S MANOR.

Mr. and Mrs. John Grant and family, of Trenton, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Innes on last Sunday.

The Penn's Manor base ball team is going to cross bats with the Eclipse nine, of Morrisville, on the latter's ball ground on Saturday at 3.30 p m.

Owing to the too short notice, the festival held in the chapel on last Saturday evening was not as largely atended as was desired. Those present, however, had an enjoyable time and a neat little sum was realized for the benefit of the chapel.

The sacrament of the Holy Communion was solemnly observed in the chapel on last Sunday evening, Rev. A. S. Pittenger officiating. There was more than an usual attendance and quite a number took part in the sacred act.

The weather seems to be very uncertain this season and varies from one extreme to another without notice. On Saturday morning it was almost cold enough for frost; Sunday we had a nice shower; Monday it was hot enough to feel uncomfortable in the hot rays of the sun, while on Tuesday we had a regular old fashioned rainstorm all day. Though the rain crossed the planned work of a good many, yet it did a great deal more good than harm, as the ground was getting hard and bakey and the young grass and pasture fields and other growing crops were very much in need of it.

LOWER BENSALEM.

Mrs. Price and Mrs. Bennett were visiting in Bridgewater on Friday.

Many of the Democrats of Bensalem attended the convention at Doylestown on Monday.

A pleasant surprise was tendered Rev. and Mrs. S. Polk Thursday on their return to the manse.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Reed, Jr., of Middletown cross-roads, while out driving on Sunday evening, August 31st, met with quite a smash-up, the cause being a bad piece of road in Attleboro and Bristol's assistant postmaster, William Minster, whose attention must have been centered on the other occupant of his carriage as he was unable to see the approaching team and drove into it. Mr. Reed's carriage was broken, himself and wife thrown out. The horse broke loose and ran home and alarmed Mrs. Reed's parents, Mr. and Mrs James P. Hellings, very much as they thought that the carriage had been struck by the cars. Mr. Hellings started in search of them and found them a short distance from home, where the accident occurred. Mr. Reed escaped with a few scratches, but Mrs. Reed was so badly shaken up that she required the attention of a doctor for a few days. Mr. Minster was dragged some distance by his horse but not seriously hurt.

John Murray, atfer living many years a bachelor, has taken to himself a wife, the bride being Miss May Randall. We wish them much joy.

The family of William Daniels, who resided in West Bristol Township during the summer, returned to their home in Philadelphia on Monday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniels entertained a number of young friends from Philadelphia who came up the Delaware in a naptha launch on Sunday last.

Alexander Christy is harvesting his crop of sickle pears. He owns one of the largest pear Orchards in Bucks county, there being always an abundant yield of perfect fruit.

The Ladies Auxilliary of the Y. M. C. A. hold their annual lawn festival this evening on their lawn at Bridgewater. The list of attractions include a fish pond, ping pong, shuffle board and music.

One of the residents of West Bristol township who attended the convention Monday week at Doylestown arrived home in a dazed condition from which it took several days to recuperate. It is persumed the cause was imbibing too freely of the lime water at the county seat.

Two steam launches from New Jersey anchored on the Delaware flats on Saturday last opposite the farm of W. Bault for the purpose of shooting the toothsome rail birds that had been so numerous the past week. They diligently searched the flats but the only game was left thereon was a few squab bitturn.

YARDLEY.

Mrs. Irvin Aaron is spending some time at Asbury Park.

B F. Graham has been appointed janitor of the Odd Fellows' hall.

John Fitzgerald has had a number of walks made of crushed stone laid around his home

Miss Lillian Stackhouse will attend the State Normal School at West Chester this coming term.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarkson Wilson are in attendance at the Friends' conference at Asbury Park this week.

Mrs. Frank Scott, who went under an operation some time ago, is recovering in a very satisfactory manner.

George Cadwallader has returned from Camden where he was engaged in papering for a few days the past week.

Mr and Mrs. Knowles and their son Mahlon, are in attendance at the Friends' conference at Asbury Park this week.

Miss Gertrude Pursell has returned to Garfield, N. J, where she is employed as teacher in the public schools of that place.

The supper and festival given in the Odd Fellows' hall on Friday and Saturday evenings was largely attended and a neat sum was realized.

The Yardley council met on Friday evening, nothing of importance happened, only the regular business of the council being transacted.

The M. E. Church will shortly have a number of improvements made to the building. The roof will be repaired, a belfry erected and vestibules put to the doors.

Welsh took first prize and the second went home with T. Sidney Cadwallader.

The Yardley base ball team defeated the Trentons at Yardley on Saturday afternoon in a loosely played game throughout. When the game opened up the prospects were good for a close game, but the Trenton team fell all apart in the third inning and from that time on the game belonged to the Yardley boys. The Yardley base ball team, of which Gus Seitz is manager, is soliciting subscriptions from the citizens of the town, the money received to be used to defray the expenses of the club, as the amount received at each game, by passing around the hat, is very small.

The Yardley schools opened on the 2nd with a good attendance in the two lower rooms. The high school has not as yet got its full complement of pupils. The board is having a great number of improvements made to the main building and also the out-buildings. The heaters are being put in good shape, and it is hoped that they will heat the school far better than they did last year, when the children in the upper room were compelled to march around the room to keep warm. The subject of an assistant principal was not discussed at the monthly meeting of the board on Monday evening. At present the one teacher in charge can handle the school in a satisfactory manner, but it is a question whether he will be able to do so when the school fills up for the winter months.

Only one man in 2003 is more than six feet in heigth.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Conard are visiting Mrs. Conard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Moon, near here.

Mrs. Tacie Gillingham left on Saturday for Asbury Park to attend the Friends' conference being held there.

The Fallsington Library has been reopened. Miss Eliza Hance having returned from her well earned vacation.

Lucy Tatum and Mary Lovett have returned to Friends' school at Westtown, after the usual summer vacation.

The regular monthly meeting of the Society of Friends, (Hicksite) was held here on Saturday and was well attended.

Through an error in last week's Gazette, Schuyler Stokes, who defeated S. Harry Mathers for county committeeman in Lower Falls, was represented as being the Fish candidate. To those who know of the splendid fight put up by Mr. Stokes it is hardly necessary to state that he was not the Fish candidate, but on the contrary defeated the latter by a majority of 12 votes.

Joseph Satterthwaite, a Kansas newspaperman accompanied by his daughter, Miss Ruth, has been spending several days calling upon relatives and friends in this vicinity, where he lived in his boyhood. Mr. Satterthwaite says the people of his state are greatly pleased by the manly utterances of President Roosevelt regarding the trust evil and will stand by the Chief Executive.

"You have omitted one item," said the departing guest to the landlord. "What's that?" asked mine host. "The bookeeper said good-morning to me today, and you've forgotten to charge for it."

When coal operators cease to make large profits out of strikes they will be willing to give more earnest thought to the subject of arbitration.

If a protective tariff is the mother of trusts how do free traders explain the fact that the new steamship trust is under British regulations, and that only four of the 120 ships in the combination are American?

The Doylestown Daily Intelligencer has reached that most interesting stage—"sweet sixteen." The Intelligencer was the first daily newspaper to be established in Bucks county and it has steadily improved since its natal day. There are few, if any, towns the size of Doylestown that can boast of a better daily than the Intelligencer.

George W. Strauser, of Bristol, unanimously nominated for the Assembly by the Republicans of Bucks county, is bearing his honors most worthily. He may be seen every day, showing no change in demeanor, mingling freely among the people, evincing no signs of elation, but in every way sizing up to the standard so confidently predicted by his friends. Highly appreciative, thankful and grateful, Mr. Strauser is modestly but vigorously prosecuting his candidacy in the even tenor of his characteristic manner.

How does this Bryanite utterance of 1896 sound now, in these later days?

"If Mr. McKinley and the Republican party are successful and put in power for the next four years, wages will be decreased. Hard times will come upon us and over the land. The price of wheat will come down and the price of gold will go up. Mortgages on our farms will be foreclosed by the money lenders. Shops and factories will be closed. We will export no goods and we will import from foreign lands the goods which we use. Thus will ruin, want, and misery be with us."

The platform adopted by the Democrats at Doylestown on Monday is a masterpiece of aromatic conception. There is no savor of the dilettante in the artistic finish of the weird creation. The eschatotic condemnation in the use of Republican dinner tickets makes a harrowing picture, with free soup houses for a background. As a declaration of principles Monday's deliverence is entitled to all of the sympathy which attaches to agonized labor. The "nomination of an esoteric Judge" has driven the Bucks Democrats to frenzy, as their hydrophobic platform indicates.

A 9,700,000-bale cotton crop for 1902, which is the figure at which the yield for the year is put, means lots of prosperity for the planters. The corn and wheat growers are not the only agriculturists who will be in clover this year. Probably the yield will be slightly below that of 1901, but in the general tendency toward an increase of the foreign demand the chances are that it will bring considerably more money than last year's output did. The country is in a flourishing condition in every respect and the best part of the story is that the prosperity is diffused throughout the entire United States, and in almost all interests.

If we are to wait for Tariff revision until the "friends of the Tariff" do the revising, we shall have to wait until the Trust Samson is willing the shear his own locks—New York "Journal." Yellow Free-Trade.

No matter how long they may wait, the people of the United States are not likely to place the work of Tariff revision in the hands of Free-Trade prosperity wreckers. When revision comes it will be done by "friends of the Tariff." God help the country if it be done by other than friendly hands. Business men and wage earners do not need to be told what would happen to all industry, all labor, all trade, all commerce if in a moment of blind forgetfulness the privilege of "smashing the Tariff" should be intrusted to "Tariff Reformers." Memories of past results of Tariff ripping by Tariff enemies are too fresh, we hope, for that!

The Democratic convention held at Doylestown on Monday is said to have been the largest one that the party has held within a decade, and yet there were not over seven or eight hundred people in attendance. The meeting was a dull and listless affair and absolutely no enthusiasm whatever was apparent. The programme for the day was arranged by the bosses previous to the convention and there was not a skip in the ratification. The greatest difficulty experienced by Messrs. Vandegrift and Grim was in finding sheep for the slaughter. By promising that no assessments would be imposed, a number of candidates were lured on to make up a ticket.

Although's "straight" ticket was nominated, the V.-G. machine has made provision for fusion. If Rice and Edwards can convince the old Democratic warhorse of Bucks, that the Union party intends to make an organized fight and the "boodle," which his platform condemns, is in sight, two of the Legislative candidates nominated will very kindly step down and Rice and Edwards will take their places.

Sybil: "When Steve proposed to me he acted like a fish out of water." Tirpis: "Why shouldn't he? He knew he was caught."

CONCERNING RELIGIOUS DECADENCE

No thoughtful or observant person will charge Dr. George C. Lorimer, the eminent New York clergyman, with being a vain sensationalist when he declares as he did in a recent sermon that religion in America today is of "very low vitality" and the attendance at church services is "shamefully small." Neither will Dr. Lorimer's prediction be regarded as a vain one when he says that "at the present rate at which we are living in fifty years we will have no Sabbath." These tendencies can be largely traced, Dr. Lorimer thinks to the constant influx of undesirable immigrants from the south of Europe and also by the ever growing desire for cosmopolitanism, which is the desire to live according to the custom and fashion of other lands. Whatever may be the cause of this state of affairs, Dr. Lorimer is undoubtedly right in pointing to these things as evidences of an approaching crisis in American religous life. The situation is not one calling for alarm nor despair but it does call loudly for renewed efforts on the part of religious bodies to adjust their methods to the needs and demands of the hour, to abstain from petty squabblings and noisy disputations over minor things—over points of sectarian doctrine and Biblical interpretations which have no visible relation to daily life and only weary and disgust intelligent laymen. If religious vitality is at a low ebb and attendance at the churches painfully small the churches and their leaders have themselves to blame for it. They have ample equipment, sufficient machinery and every necessary resource, so far as men and means are concerned, to alter the situation if they will set themselves about it in the right spirit and the requisite energy, with the dominating motive the salvation of man, rather than sectarian exaltation or the promotion of isms. What the people want is true spiritual food and not dry husks of religious controversy. They want comfort and help amid the distractions of this rushing and restless age; the simple inspiring, uplifting truth, freed from the absurdities of the overzealous sectarians of a dead and buried past. The direct, hearty and sincere administration of religion in the churches will be the means of hearing far less of empty pews and a failing faith.

The statistics of the year and the century furnish some important information. But it is a little difficult to understand just how the Democratic orators and editors are going to serve up the figures to their own advantage. In the first place the figures all indicate progress and prosperity, and in the next place the records have been made under an almost continuous Republican rule.

NATURE'S REMEDIES.

The first days of September always witness the return of an army of people from the mountains, the lakes, the seashore and the country. Trains are heavily laden with home coming travellers, baggage rooms at the stations are packed to the ceilings with trunks and valises and houses which have been closed all summer are once more turned to use as habitations.

No doubt, in a large majority of instances, these returning citizens have been materially benefitted by their sojourns amidst rural scenes or on ocean sands. The closer man gets to nature during a part of the year the stronger he is likely to be for his tasks during the remainder of the twelve months. Pure air, ample exercise and contact with things natural are potent rejuvenators and strength givers. It is well to point out, however, that the employment of these agencies need, by no means, be restricted to the summer. Country pedestrianism is enjoyable and the rational use of one's muscle brings benefit. The sunshine of autumn and winter is more vitalizing than that of the torrid months Plenty of fresh air costs nothing. These facts are as applicable to women and children as they are to men.

Rightly utilized and appreciated, the nature remedies will go a long ways toward increasing the enjoyment of life and keeping the human system in good repair.

To a man up a tree, the United States has been having a pretty hard time of it. Acording to Mr. Bryan we have been having only "temporary prosperity," while Congressman Jackson, of Kansas, now states "that the Republican prosperity is about over." What the country really needs (in order to give employment to the calamitites) is to have some of the large—real large—fine times of the Cleveland-Wilson low tariff regime of 1893-'95.

The poor old Democratic party! Poor in every sense and the least importance of these is money. The brilliant record which the country has made under Republican policy and administration has made the Democracy penniless in everything worth having. In virile principles, in convictions, in definite purpose, in progression, in strength, in respectability, in leadership, and in prospects the party is absolutely bankrupt. The only thing left is its "glorious past." And the only part of that past which can be pointed to as "glorious" is that which is so far back in the shadow of vanished years that nothing can be remembered about it.

Under the caption of "Still we Scold," the Kansas City Journal pokes a good deal of fun at Mr. Bryan, and at the same time makes some statements which will be difficult reading for the Democratic campaigners. The Journal states that Mr. Bryan uses a column of valuable space in the Commoner, charging Democrats throughout the country to "arraign" the Republican party for its record on the Philippines war, for its record on finance, for its record on trusts, for its record in making appropriations, for its record in the management of the army and the navy, for its record, indeed, on every public question. The arraignment, too, is to be based largely on the fact that during the last twenty years the Republican party has been "drifting from its ancient moorings." It is remarkable how Mr. Bryan, like other distinguished Democrats, appear to now love the Republican party as it was anciently moored. One comes almost to the belief that these statesmen would have been Republicans in those days before the drifting process commenced. However, the Journal declares that "Uncle Joe" Cannon in a speech in the House of Representatives, summed up the situation in much more concise and pungent form than does Mr. Bryan in his charge when the former said in answer to a long-winded Democratic speech "The platform suggested by my distinguished colleague is 'Still we Scold.'"

The Democratic campaign text book is out. From now on the thunder of the Democratic orators may be heard throughout the land.

The book gives much attention to Imperialism and to the Trusts, but strangely omits to say anything about Free Silver. Two recent editorials from the Commoner, printed near the back of the book, seem to be about the only evidences of the existence, not to say leadership, of William J. Bryan. A bitter attack is made upon the late President McKinley through his Philippines policy, in which President Roosevelt is also included. The campaign book melodramatically charges that the intention of the Republican party has been, and is, not to stop at the retention of the Philipine Islands, but that it contemplates a general policy of conquest throughout the world. President Roosevelt is described as defending and glorifying the bloody colonization of old world powers. The repeal of the tariff is particularly advised as a trust remedy.

Congressman Littlefield made a little speech the other day at Lewiston, Maine, which the Democrats have been studying carefully. They are not sure, after all, that this is such a good year for "tariff reform." After ridiculing the Democracy for its hard luck in getting the American Army, he commented on the Democratic statement that the "tariff fosters the trusts." In the first place, he stated that there are thousands of corporations that are not fostered by the tariff, the biggest trust in the country, Standard Oil, leading them. Anthracite is a trust and there is no protection on that. Then go to free-trade England, he said, and you will find the country honeycombed with trusts; they have been there since 1640. They are all over Europe and in countries that have never heard of a tariff. But, continued Mr. Littlefield, strike off the tariff, and who goes to the wall first? Why, it is the weaker party, the individual competitor. The friends of Mr. Littlefield promise some interesting trust talk this fall from the Maine Statesman.

Six million dollars, the income from the sale of western public lands in the last two years, lies in the Treasury available for the construction by the Government of irrigation works in the West, under the recent act of Congress. The question of the application of this money is causing no little interest in the West. The Government engineers are investigating different dam sites upon which to construct the initial works which it is recognized must serve as an object lesson of national irrigation. Of course each State is anxious to have this work done within its borders, and the consequence is that every time a Government engineer lands at any town and starts to look over a reserver site, the people of the section immediately build high hopes that the Government will select their site, and this usually expands into a press despatch or two stating such to be the fact. The administration at Washington feels the responsibility of the undertaking and can be relied upon to see that the first example of Federal irrigation is carefully and sucessfully carried out. It is claimed that the national benefits which will be shown to arise will astonish the people of the East.

Philadelphia Conservatory of Music.

The Philadelphia Conservatory of Music, 822 North Broad street, founded 1877, and incorporated in 1884, one of the oldest and foremost musical institutions, will begin the 26th season on Monday, September 1, 1902 Since May, 1901, the Conservatory has moved in its own home, a large and splendid building (lot 20x130) with hall and large class rooms. A considerable sum has been spent for improvements during the last year. The director of the institution is Richard C. Schirmer, a thorough musician, and as a teacher is liked by all his pupils. The Departments are for Piano, Organ, Violin, Voice Culture, Orchestral Instruments, Theory of Music, Dramatic Art, Languages and Painting. The institution is the only one that has given public performances of Grand Opera (Martha, Faust, Freyschuerz) and Oratories (Creation by Haydn). The Conservatory is complete in all departments. The faculty consists of a large number of artist teachers. There is a full pupils' orchestra. The Conservatory enjoys the reputation for being the best equipped institution and its superiority is acknowledged by all its pupils, representing nearly all the States of the Union. The scholars of the Conservatory have the privilege to attend all the classes in Theory of Music, Harmony, Counterpoint, Fugue, Orchestration, the Ensemble Class (playing compositions by our great masters for piano, violin, viola, 'cello) the Symphony and Sight Singing classes, The Oratorio Society, Operatic Class, Symphony Orchestra, 40 Lectures, Concerts, Recitals, all without extra charge. The lessons are either private or in class, whatever is preferred. The scholars are taught by experienced teachers, who are accomplished musicians and artist performers. Among the graduates of the institution are excellent solo pianists, organists, violinists, opera and concert singers, young composers and conductors, who fill prominent positions, who speak gratefully of the Conservatory and place the same among the best musical institutions in the country. Catalogues will be mailed on application to Richard C. Shirmer, director, 822 North Broad Street.

The faculty of the Conservatory has been increased by some eminent artists. Mr. Carl Doell, solo violinist, and Mr. Howard K. Gery, dramatic solo singer, have been engaged as teachers.

Oh, Fudge!

Doylestown Democrat.

Next week we shall turn the light on Judge Pennypacker, showing how he was discovered, who he is, what he is, what he stands for and what is expected of him if elected to the governorship. When all the facts are known the mask will fall from this solemn-faced apologist for Quayism, and the people will see how they have been deceived.

And This is Woman

According to Hindoo mythology at the beginning of time Twashtri created the world and man. But when he wished to create woman he found that he had exhausted all the materials at his disposal in the creation of man. There remained no solid elements. Twashtri, perplexed, sank into a profound reverie. Presently he grasped an idea and took the roundness of the moon and the undulations of the serpent, the flexible branches of plants and the tremore of grasses, the slenderness of the reed and the velvet touch of the flowers, the lightness of leaves and the glance of the roe, the evanescent glitter of a sunbeam and the tears of the clouds, the fickleness of the wind and the timidity of the hare, the vanity of the peacock and the softness of the down which trims the breast of the sparrow, the hardness of the diamond and the sweetness of honey, the cruelty of the tiger and warmth of the fire, the coldness of the snow, the chattering of the jay, and the cooing of the turtle, and out of these things woman was made.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

GRIM'S GATHERING MAKES A TICKET—NOTES OF THE MEETING.

The Democratic county convention was held here on Monday when the following ticket was named:

State Senator, Webster Grim, Doylestown.

Assembly, Hysler J. Zane, Sellersville; B. Frank Cope, Buckingham; Frank Hegeland, Southampton.

Sheriff, W. Harry Smith, Doylestown.

Recorder, Harry F. Malloy, Wrightstown.

Clerk of Orphans' Court, Jesse C. Everitt, West Bristol.

Clerk of Quarter Session, Allen H. Weil Mulford.

County Commissioner, Edwin Kiser, Springfield; Samuel T. Bassett, Upper Makefield.

Director of the Poor, Henry H. Vanartsdalen, Southampton.

County Auditor, H. R. Trauger, East Bedminster; William VanPelt, Upper Makefield.

One ballot was taken for assembly in the lower district and for recorder and county commissioner. John S. Williams, Jr., of West Bristol, was defeated for the assembly nomination, John Thompson, of Wrightstown, for recorder, and Asher R. Lear, Plumstead; Robert S. MacNair, Warrington; John J. Smith, Warwick; John D. Bennett, Newtown; David S. Fetter of Southampton, for county commissioner.

It was said that it was Webster Grim's convention. If so Webster showed the party what a nice convention he could get up when not interfered with by some of the old-time bosses. There was a fair representation of the party, nearly every district sending its delegates. Everything passed off quietly, the only contest worth mentioning being that for the county commissioner nomination. With the exception of this nomination nobody cared particularly who got on the ticket.

A large number of Republicans were present, adding numbers and dignity to the proceedings. The convention adopted a platform in which it was stated that national issues would be waived. So long as the party has not agreed upon national issues this was an easy way to escape any embarrassment on that point. The platform then deals with the Republican leadership and recent convention in this county, declaring that the honor of the county demands the union of all citizens without regard to party affiliation, a rather serious reflection upon the Republican administration of county affairs and the Republican nominees. But the platform did not go back of the Republican convention. It finds fault with the system of nominating candidates rather than the manner in which the county's affairs have been conducted after they are elected. The rest of the platform lauds Governor Pattison. It contains no reference to Pennypacker except to describe him as an 'esoteric judge," but there were not enough esoteric delegates present to give due appreciation to this learned and condensed analysis of the Republican candidate's character. In brief, the convention put the customary sort of party ticket in the field and if the State leaders do not interfere with it in attempting to carry out some fusion project there will be the same story to tell the day after election. There is nothing about the ticket or the resolutions calculated to draw Republican support.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Walt Darlington, the North American's political literary artist, was on hand in the interest of fusion.

"Bobby" Crossman, Republican candidate for assembly; Irvin Aaron, senator-to-be, watched the game from the sidelines.

Republican County Chairman Joseph W. Shally, after viewing the work of the Democratic convention, wished to be placed on record with the prediction that the Republican county ticket will be elected by majorities of from 1500 to 2000 votes.

If the Union party in general and Hampton W. Rice and Frank G. Edwards in particular can demonstrate any strength during the campaign and most important of all, produce the coin, two of the legislative candidates will be pulled from their perches and Rice and Edwards substituted.

Although the Democratic convention was the largest held in recent years, it was a tiny affair in comparison to the enthusiastic Republican meetings that are annually held at the county seat. The crowd on Monday consisted of about seven or eight hundred people—Democrats and Republicans.

One of the noticeable features of the gathering was the personnel of the delegation which was made up almost entirely of old men. The almost entire absence of young and vigorous manhood potently portrayed the cause of the decadence of the Democratic party. The young men of the country have joined the ranks of progressive, strenuous Republicanism while the patriarchs are still voting for "Andy" Jackson.

While the bosses of the party favor fusion with Rice and Edwards many were the vigorous protests heard from the rank and file. It is safe to say that fully one-half of the Democrats in the upper end are against such a measure. Delegates from Perkasie, Sellersville, Rockhill, Hilltown, and other rock-ribbed strongholds of Democracy were heard to declare that the party members in their districts would not stand for a fusion scheme.

Deputy Grand Master Charles S. Vande grift and Webster Grim, Esq., arranged the complete programme in advance of the convention. Candidates were dragged in and made to stand for nominations, in cases where there were holes in the ticket, and in the few instances where there were more than one candidate for an office the two bosses settled their fates. John S. Williams, of West Bristol township, was bobbled in his race for the assembly nomination by the decree of the slate-makers that Frank Hogeland, of Southampton, should have the empty honor. At an early hour before the convention was called to order the Gazette man was given a list of candidates that would be named. It proved to be correct.

North Wales Record.

As we briefly foresha dowed in our last issue, our old friend, George Washington Strauser, of Bristol, was nominated at Doylestown on Monday for Assembly. He got there, too, without much fuss. Nearly everybody seemed to be for him. Now let everybody turn in and give him the handsomest majority ever accorded a Bucks county nominee. Mr. Strauser deserves such a vote. No one can question his Republicanism. He believes its doctrines, and has faith in its policies, and he is courageous in advocating them. We believe he will give intelligent service in the House, and these are the kind of men now wanted at Harrisburg.

A minister made an interminable call upon a lady of his acquaintance. Her little daughter who was present grew weary of his conversation, and whispered in an audible tone: "Didn't he bring his amen with him?"

NAME THE FARM.

Wycombe Herald.

Farmers should name their farms according to the custom which prevails largely in France and England. The argument is that when the farm is thus identified the tendency is for the owners to take more pride in it and its products. The farm name becomes a trade-mark. Paint the name on a board and nail it up where passers-by can see it

EXPERT TESTIMONY.

Lansdale Reporter.

Here's to the festive candidate: He kissed the baby and rubbed the heads of Sam and Sue, he swore the twins were beautiful and wished he had two—but that doesn't count. He asked about the corn bread, which he vainly tried to chaw, and forthwith begged for the recipe, of course that tickled ma—but that doesn't count. But just before he left he stopped and winked, closed up his jaw, and slipping out behind the barn, he took a drink with pa—and that's what counts.

FIRE AND WATER TO MIX.

Jenkintown Times.

The intimation has been given out that Senator Wentz, after the Democrats have renominated him, will be indorsed by the Prohibitionists. It would be a strange combination—Democracy and Prohibition—but almost anything in the line of fusion may be looked for this year. There is one benefit to be derived from a combination of all anti-organization elements—it forces the Republicans to take up the very best men and this, it is apparent, the convention next week will do.

IMPORTANT POLITICAL DUTY.

Doylestown Republican.

With fusion forces disbanded or rendered impotent by their inability to maintain harmony, the campaign will now open in this State on old lines. The two great parties once more occupy the field and the contest will be a struggle for the supremacy of the principles each represents. Concerning State issues there is no question as to the duty of every Republican. He should feel morally bound to support Pennypacker because of his high character and integrity. To do otherwise is to discourage the nomination of citizens of like character in future Quite as important is his duty to assist in the election of Republican candidates for Congress and the State Legislature. To fail in this is to strike a direct blow at the party's policy and achievements in the administration of national affairs. It is sheer nonsense to say that these matters are not involved in the present campaign, and from now on every Republican should put aside all personal prejudice and work for the good of the party and through it for the good of the county

OUR PRIMATIVE METHOD.

North Wales Record

The writer attended the Bucks county Republican convention at Doylestown, on Monday, and was as much amused as of yore the way nominations are made in that portion of the Eighth Congressional District by the 'all hands round" and "hold up hands" system—a custom as old as the hills They have no primary elections in Bucks All the voters of the county who wish to have any say in making the party nominations go to Doylestown, and there in groups vote for their choice of candidates by holding up hands In recent years those interested in controlling nominations have been liberal in running free trains or procuring free transportation for those who will support them, and also in supplying free dinners, and the result is big crowds and the nomination of such men as the bosses know will do their bidding. It is an ancient way for an intelligent and progressive people to nominate a ticket, but if the Republicans of Bucks county like it better than a more civilized and up-to date system, we have no objections to them keeping up the habit until doom's day.

PENROSE AND OLEO.

The great battle which Penrose made in the Senate in favor of the Grout bill secured its passage through that body, and the best known anti-oleo law is now among the Federal statutes We quote part of one of his speeches because of the information it contains

"Products of the dairy and those of the poultry yard are the only two sources from which the farmer is able to realize cash quickly. Butter, milk, poultry and eggs can be sold daily if desired in the markets. Crops on the other hand, require much time before they can be marketed.

"The history of all nations shows that as the agricultural people prosper so prospers the nation. No nation, however rich and powerful, can afford to neglect the tillers of the soil. Owing to our nation's rapid progress in science and industrial development conditions are constantly changing. The farmers of today have to meet many contingencies undreamed of by their fore-fathers. The vast network of railways brings them into direct competion with distant lands. New inventions lessen the demands for many things and change the current of trade. To protect the people against the violent changes, which would prove disastrous to our industries should be the object of our government. Not only the mechanic, the merchant and the manufacturer, but the farmer should be protected. But how can this be done? The manufacturer can be protected by tariffs against disastrous competition of foreign pauper labor; the merchant by laws prohibiting discrimination in freight rates, giving to each an equal chance in the markets of trade and commerce, but these remedies affect the farmer only in a remote degree. But the farmer can be protected in his right to sell the products of the soil as such.

"We do not deny the right of any one to manufacture or sell healthful food products as such, but stringent laws should be enacted and the enforcement thereof placed in the representatives of the farmers themselves against all food adulterations. Perhaps the most conspicious article in food adulteration, certainly the one of the most interest to the farmers of Pennsylvania, is oleomargarine. The Commissioner of Internal Revenue reports for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1899, that there were in round numbers, 91,000,000 pounds of oleo manufactured in the United States, of which eleven and one-half million pounds were sold in Pennsylvania. In the manufacture of this immense amount only 1.7 per cent. of the material used was butter.

The rest was composed of different materials—principally animal fat and cottonseed oil—colored and sold as butter.

"Against this imposition the honest farmer and dairyman should be protected, not only by suitable laws but by the appointment of suitable officials who will without fear or favor enforce existing laws.—Ex.

Is It Appreciated?

The people of Bristol should feel very grateful to our local coal dealers. While dealers in other towns are getting from nine to twelve dollars per ton for coal, it is still sold here, at this date, for seven dollars. Mr Leedom says he could have gotten nine dollars for all the stock he had a month ago by loading it on the cars and shipping it to a wholesale dealer, but he preferred to divide it among his customers in small quantities at the low price Should the operators resume mining soon (which Mr. Leedom thinks will take place within the next two weeks) the price may not be above seven dollars, therefore he did not want to go above that price on his old stock. At a recent meeting of the Philadelphia Coal Exchange the members thought $7 50 per ton would be the starting price after normal mining operations take place. Mr. Leedom says that considering the great loss dealers are put to by not having coal for their customers and having the expense of their men, horses, etc., twenty-five dollars per ton would not begin to clear them on the small stocks they had on hand at the beginning of this strike. An experiment is about being tried in using bituminous coal which has been screened into family sizes to be used for domestic use. It is to be hoped this may prove a substitute for the time being.

Consumption

The only kind of consumption to fear is "neglected consumption."

People are learning that consumption is a curable disease. It is neglected consumption that is so often incurable.

At the faintest suspicion of consumption get a bottle of Scott's Emulsion and begin regular doses.

The use of Scott's Emulsion at once, has, in thousands of cases, turned the balance in favor of health.

Neglected consumption does not exist where Scott's Emulsion is.

Prompt use of Scott's Emulsion checks the disease while it can be checked.

A devotional meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held next Wednesday, September 17, at 3.30.

A series in the Union Building and Loan Company has matured and will be paid off this month.

A marriage license has been issued to William W. Allen and Miss Caroline S. Hartshorn, both of Bristol.

Four car loads of heavy wide flange rails have been unloaded on Pond street for the Trenton and Bristol Street Railway Co.

The advertisement of the Select Dancing Academy appears in another column. The opening will take place at Pythian Hall on Saturday evening, September 27.

John G. Street has accepted a position with the branch office of the New York Life Insurance Company, 1013 North American building, Philadelphia.

It is reported that Captain F. G. Edwards has rented the room on Cedar street in the rear of Childs' store, were he will next week open up political headquarters.

Attention is called to the advertisement of W. Harry Smith in this issue. At his Mill street dry goods store a big clearance is in progress, with bargains in every department.

A boy named Reed, who drives a stage for John Irwin, was bitten by a horse one day this week. The animal fastened his teeth in the breast of the boy and lifted him clear of the ground.

No. 1 Fire Company has received an invitation to participate in a firemen's parade at Mt. Holly in October. A meeting of the members will be held this evening to take action on the proposition.

The T. B. Harkins Foundry Company will build a frame addition 18x45 feet to their foundry building at the corner of Dorrance and Canal streets. This addition is made necessary by reason of their increase in business.

Mrs. C. A. Bartolette died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Howard Pursell, on Saturday as a result of heart disease. Mrs. Bartolette was 72 years of age and was born in Warren county. The interment took place at Milford, N. J.

The Firemen's Relief Association of Bristol has received a check for $150 from David Landreth & Sons as a present in recognition of the services rendered by the fire companies at the recent fire. A like amount has been sent to the Burlington Association.

On Monday evening, September 22, Rev. T J. MacKay, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will deliver an illustrated lecture on the volcanic disturbances at Martinique, St. Pierre. Thirty-three views will be shown with the stereopticon.

On Monday evening thirty members of the Bristol Retail Merchants' Association had a banquet at Jeffries' hotel. A course dinner was served and the menu included all of the tempting seasonable viands. The table was beautifully decorated with flowers and a concealed orchestra furnished music.

List of letters remaining in the Bristol postoffice for the week ending September 10: Crip H. M. Vancleif, Chas. D. Ward, Thomas Lyton, Mrs. M. B. F., 3, Geo. W. Mitchell, Antonio Russe, Mrs. Thompson, Patrick R. Harkins, Wm. H. Hackett, Mrs. E. L. Henry, M. Gariner, Willie Fitts, 2, Sarah Dolan, R. O. Bann, Jr.

A stranger came up the pike on Saturday night and judging from his actions he imagined he was surrounded by the denizens of a zoological garden. The poor fellow's distress was awful. He pitifully pleaded with the people along the street to pick the snakes off of him. He was kept in the station house over night and turned loose in the morning.

William L. Bell and Moses Louder will attend the session of the State Council Jr. O. U. A. M., which will convene in Pittsburg on Tuesday next. Mr. Bell will go as the representative of Fidelity Council, and Mr. Louder as alternate. It is at this meeting that the local council will place a candidate in the field for National Representative.

At a meeting of the conferees from the three chartered fire companies of the borough which convened in the parlor of No. 1 Engine House on Monday evening of last week, William Holt, of Good Will Hose Co., No. 3, was elected chief of the fire department and Walter Moore, of No. 1 Co. assistant chief. This election was subjected for ratification by the Borough Council.

A horse belonging to Edward Rose, the Radcliffe street green grocer, became frightened at a trolley on Otter street on Tuesday and ran away. The horse broke off the hitching post and dragged it along. At the ice plant the frightened animal turned on to the Pennsylvania tracks and ran to Croydon down the railroad. The horse was badly cut as a result of being thrown, and a big gash in the side had to be closed with eleven stitches.

Good Will Hose Co., No. 3, has an occupant for the stable in Pearl street, near the house, which they have leased from E. W. Minster. The horse which belongs to one of our local milkmen will be used to draw the new hose wagon to a fire. A set of new drop harness has been purchased and placed in position. At a meeting of the company held on Tuesday evening the following members were appointed drivers: Jacob White, William Michener, Washington Headley and Jacob Young.

William Wilson died at his late home on Radcliffe street, shortly after noon yesterday. The deceased was in his 72d year and leaves a widow and several children Mr. Wilson was a member of the firm of Wilson & Fenimore, wall paper manufacturers, and continued in that business until the Bristol plant was absorbed by the trust. He was a kindly man, and of a remarkably generous nature and leaves a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn his loss. The funeral will take place on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

On the complaint of James Schiavotti, Leonardo Lastrella was arrested on Tuesday for assault and battery. The defendant, whose name brings to memory Italian art and rare canvasses, attended a christening in the Italian settlement on Sunday, and before the festivities were over he succeeded in altering the personal appearance of Schiavotti. A hearing was held before 'Squire Kraft on Tuesday evening and Leonardo is now pursuing his usual vocation, under $300 bail to appear at court.

Mission at St. Marks.

A two weeks' mission, conducted by the Redemptionist Fathers, of Saratoga, N. Y., was commenced last Sunday at St. Mark's Church, Bristol. The first week will be for the women and second for the men of the parish.

So Barnes Says.

B. Frank Barnes, of Bristol, whom everybody knows, disturbed the atmosphere in the editorial sanctum long enough last week to file exceptions to the size of the elephant ears that have been published in the Gazette. Barnes says they are mere cabbage leaves. At Mrs. Sarah Hawke's on Mulberry street, he says the leaves now measure 50x18 inches, and are still growing. Next!

W. C. T. U. Convention.

The Bucks County Woman's Christian Temperance Union will hold their 18th annual convention in the Bethel Evangelical Church, at Perkasie, on Wednesday, September 17th. Miss Belle Kearney, of Mississippi, will speak at the evening meeting. Morning, afternoon and evening sessions will be held and the public is invited to be present.

Building a Water Works.

The Corona Kid Company is erecting a reservoir and establishing a fire protection system at its works in the Fourth ward of Bristol. A tower eighty feet high has been built upon which will be erected a reservoir with a capacity of holding 50,000 gallons. A pumping plant is being installed and the supply will be taken from a well. Pipes will be laid about the premises and fire plugs placed at convenient points. Automatic sprinklers will also be put in the buildings.

Disappeared With a Livery Team.

A man who registered at the Delaware House under the name of Burns hired a horse and wagon at Roberts' livery stable on Radcliffe street, Bristol, on Monday morning and failing to return at night, Chief Saxton started to hunt for the erring individual. The chief took the 8.36 p. m. train for Philadelphia and located the team at the Eagle Hotel, 6th and Girard avenue, where it had been put up for the night with the understanding that it would be called for in the morning. "Burns" registered at the Eagle Hotel as W. J. Lincoln. Chief Saxton waited until Tuesday morning with the hopes of catching the follow, but as he failed to put in an appearance the horse and wagon were brought back to Bristol.

Warning Notices.

Upon the recommendation of the State Board of Health the following printed notices to employees have been posted in the Bristol Carpet Mill:

Unless every precaution is taken now Bristol may be visited this winter with an epidemic of smallpox so disastrous as to close the mills, thus taking from you your way of making your living, and result in the quarantine of the town. We earnestly request all our employees who have not been successfully vaccinated to be vaccinated at once. By doing this you will safeguard yourselves, your companions and the company. The prevalence of smallpox in Bristol during the summer and up to the present time, makes the fear of an epidemic of smallpox for the winter such that the State Board of Health has urged us to take this action.

The Children's Picnic.

William E. Doron gave the children of Bristol and Burlington a day's outing at the Burlington Island Park on Saturday. The tickets which he distributed, in addition of providing for free transportation on the ferry boat, had two coupons attached, one of which entitled the holder to a free ride on the merry-go-round while the other called for a dish of ice cream. Over 2,000 children and a large number of adults accepted the opportunity offered by Mr. Doron and spent a pleasant time on the island. The majority crossed over in the afternoon. On one trip the ferry carried 800 people. The weather was favorable and everybody seemed to enjoy themselves. Too much cannot be said in praise of Mr. Doron for his kindness to the children. The act was a most kindly one and his generosity is deserving of warm commendation.

Bristol Student Finds a Germ.

A special dispatch to the New York Tribune, dated Baltimore, September 8, will be of interest to Bristolians for the reason that one of the medical students mentioned, Charles Duval, is, in reality, a resident of Bristol, making his home here with Joseph Heston. Mr. Duval is a medical student at the University of Pennsylvania and for a considerable time has been working upon the germ theory mentioned in the following article taken from the Tribune:

Victor H. Bassett, of Aledo, Ill., and Charles Duval, of Annapolis, Md., the former a student in Johns Hopkins University and the latter in the University of Pennsylvania, have discovered the germ to find which John D. Rockefeller, after the death of his grandson, "Jack" McCormick, gave $200,000 to found an Institute of medical research. After months of investigation at Wilson Sanatorium, here, where four hundred children have been treated this summer for intestinal disorders, Duval and Bassett last week positively fixed on the germ that produces children's "summer complaints."

The organism found is the same that causes acute dysentery in adults, and it is believed that a practical method can hereafter be employed for preventing these diseases. Dr. William H. Welch, the well known Johns Hopkins pathologist, and the president of the directors of the Rockefeller Institute, said that he considered the discovery a most important one, and that he thought practical beneficial results would follow. Dr. Welch is never impulsive in expressing an opinion on medical subjects. The fact that he is well pleased with the investigation of the two students is taken as an indication that much importance should be attached to the discovery.

School Board Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the Bristol Public School Board was held in the Directors' room in the high school building on last Thursday evening. The Directors present were J. K. Wildman, E. H. Foster, H. S. Rue, M. D. Harrison, D. A. Barrett, W. H. Hall, W. H. Booz, Manus McGinley, Frederick Stuckert, Doron Green.

The treasurer reported all orders paid which were drawn at the last meeting. The Property committee reported that the new hot water heater was being installed in the Bath street school building but that the work was not yet completed. They also submitted bids of placing water in the old Wood street building. On motion action was deferred for the present. The Supply committee reported that new window shades had been placed in all occupied rooms in the Bath street building.

The Superintendent reported that the schools had opened on Monday and that all the teachers except one were in their places and 688 scholars were in attendance. Three children from West Bristol township have been admitted to the high school and probably a dozen pupils are in attendance who reside outside of the borough limits. Vaccination had been insisted upon and all scholars who did not comply with the law before Friday, September 5th, would not be allowed to remain in the school. The Superintendent also referred to the matter of truancy and suggested that the Board take some action to overcome it. After an interesting discussion the School committee was empowered to employ a truant officer. The consensus of opinion seemed to be that the Police committee of the borough should be consulted and if possible arrangements be made by which one of the police officers could be used for the purpose when necessity demanded it.

Fred I. Kraft was elected delinquent tax collector, his compensation and bond to be fixed the same as last year. Interest on bond of $4,000, issue of 1895, amounting to $80, was ordered paid and bills aggregating $390.20 were presented and passed.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

The regular monthly meeting of the Bristol borough council was held on Monday evening and all of the members were present. There was but little business of importance transacted beyond the passage of the usual batch of bills and the session was completed in an hour's time.

The police committee reported that the signal system was being repaired and that within a few days the restoration of the system would be completed. Fourteen arrests were made—six for drunkenness, four for disorderly conduct, three assault and battery and one for larceny. Nine street lights were reported out during the month and 38 tramps were lodged at the station house. The report was received and filed. The bond of Fred I. Kraft, tax collector, in the amount of $2,500, with W. H. H. White and William P. Wright as sureties was presented and approved.

The semi-annual report of H. B. Pedrick, chief of the fire department, was read and received and filed.

A communication was read stating that the delegates from the three fire companies had held a convention and elected William Holt, of Goodwill company, No. 3, chief engineer to serve one year and Walter Moore, of No. 1 company, assistant chief. The selections of the delegates were approved by council.

A petition signed by nineteen property owners on Spruce street, asking that that thoroughfare be graded, curbed and paved, was referred to the Street committee with power to act.

The T. B. Harkins Foundry Company requested permission to erect a one-story building adjoining the foundry, which will extend twenty feet into Dorrance street. Referred to Street committee with power.

The bond of the Trenton and Bristol Street Railway Company was presented by Corporation Counsel B. F. Gilkeson and was approved by an aye and nay vote. The bond is in the amount of $2,000 and is given prior to the granting of a permit to dig up the streets for the purpose of constructing the trolley road, guaranteeing the faithful performance of the work according to the provisions of the ordinance.

Mr. Rathke, of the Second ward, complained of the condition of the gutters, sidewalk and the vacant Dorrance lot at the corner of Lafayette and Pond streets. He said the section was not only offensive to the eye, but a menace to good health. Mr. Rathke solemnly asserted that the weeds had obtained such a rank growth and formed a labyrinth that caused a woman and child to become bewildered and lose their way! Referred to Street committee.

President Scull registered a complaint for the persons living out the Forge road in the vicinity of "horse heaven," where dead animals are boiled up for toilet articles. At certain periods, with the wind in the right quarter, the odor was terrible, the President declared. Mr. DeGroot, took issue with the presiding officer and said he and others had visited the place and the zephyrs that played thereabouts were as pleasant as though laden with the scent of new-mown hay. Mr. DeGroot declared the odors arising from many of the gutters about the borough were far worse than that which hovers about the dead animal farm.

Treasurer Poole was advised to send a bill to the Bristol township authorities for half the expense incurred in repairing the Hollow bridge.

The following bills were ordered paid:

G. W. Fisher, removal of garbage,	$ 60 00
C. H. Moon, surveying,	30 00
C. H. Bunting, carting,	11 25
J. J. Tyrol, carting,	36 50

A "Peach" From Pear Street.

Mrs. Bella Westpy, of Pear street, was arrested by Officer Musnuff on Monday upon the complaint of her neighbors for being a nuisance. A hearing was held before 'Squire Kraft in the evening; an array of witnesses was on hand to testify as to the character of the defendant. As was remarked, and which was made apparent by the testimony, the residents of Pear street do not suffer from ennui, but that there is generally "something doing" when the fair Bella gets "liquored up." One of the witnesses, who appeared upon the stand with an infant on her arms, declared that Mrs. Westpy was a "perfect lady" when she was sober, but was a terror to the neighborhood when drunk, and that the latter condition generally prevailed every Saturday night and Sunday. Other witnesses asserted the defendant would get out on the street and scream, swear and insult everybody within range. It was claimed the "houchee couchee" dance on the side walk was a favorite diversion with the prisoner at the bar. With grim visage and $300 bail plainly written on his countenance, 'Suire Kraft listened to the evidence and in default of the bail committed Mrs. Westpy to Doylestown to await the September term of court.

Albert Westpy was also arrested and committed to jail in default of bail for interfering with the officer when arresting his wife. Anthony R. Tice gave the pair a personally conducted tour to the county seat on Tuesday morning and introduced them to Sheriff Hobensack.

Methodist Church Notes.

Arrangements are being made to hold a "rally day" in the Sunday school in the near future.

The sewing school will reopen in the church parlor on Saturday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered at the service on last Sunday morning.

The monthly social of the Epworth League will be held in the church parlor tomorrow evening.

Rev. Mr. Shaw, pastor of the Tullytown M. E. Church, will deliver the sermon at the prayer meeting service tonight.

The interest on the church debt is due October 1st. All persons whose subscriptions are yet unpaid are requested to make payment of the same to the church treasurer before that date.

Complying with a request made by the W. C. T. U., the pastor, Rev. Theodore Stevens, offered special petitions in his prayers on Sunday for the speedy termination of the strike now in progress among the anthracite coal miners.

"Who is the responsible man in this firm?" asked the brusque visitor. "I don't know who the responsible party is," answered the office boy, "but I am the one who always gets the blame!"

Lady (in dry goods establishment): "I will look at your materials for towels." Salesman (recently transferred from the dress goods department): "Yes madam, something that won't show dirt?"

"Humph, you can tell that Cromton hasn't lived long in the surburbs." "How?" "Why, he's all the time talking about 'mowing the lawn.' If he'd lived there any time he'd get down to 'cutting the grass.'"

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Our Schools.

Editor Gazette:—The school term began auspiciously on the first day of September. The Superintendent and teachers have returned to their several posts with renewed health and vigor, cheerily welcoming their duties. The pupils, with bright morning faces, started merrily in as though school days were days of joy, to be greeted with happy hearts. Their number was six hundred and eighty-eight, just one less than when the schools closed in June. The number will increase as the days go by, and the Superintendent and teachers, working harmoniously together, will have many opportunities to cudgel their brains, as well as vex their souls, with things that often bring to the face "prints of worrying cares." According to Oliver Wendell Holmes,

"Uneasy lie the heads of all that rule,
His worst of all whose kingdom is a school."

Likewise, sometimes, uneasy lie the heads of the directors, who, try as they will, cannot always steer clear of breakers, or so conduct themselves or their work as to win words of praise, escape the voice of criticism, or be deaf to the notes of refreshing censure. But it is not my purpose to discuss the directors, or to speak of their faults, failings, foibles, or preplexities. As they are human they have not all quite reached the lofty state of perfection, but are mostly subject, like other people, to the amiable weaknesses of human nature, to which charitable persons are sometimes disposed to be a little blind. "Nobody but has his fault," said the wise Shakespeare.

It may not be amiss to say something concerning the status of the teachers. Their number is twenty-one. Six of them are graduates of Normal Schools, having full diplomas, which are valid in every part of the state, exempting the holders from further examination. Thirteen have professional certificates issued for three years. Two have provisional certificates, given for one year. These certificates are issued by the Superintendent under legal conditions. Eight of our teachers are either natives or residents of Bristol. Eight of the remainder are from Bucks county. Three came from other counties in Pennsylvania, and the remaining two are from neighboring states. Five of the twenty-one are graduates of the Bristol High School; and one among the number afterwards attended the West Chester Normal school, where she was graduated. She is one of the six who have normal school diplomas.

It has been the uniform policy of the directors to elect capable teachers, and especially those whose standing is fortified by successful experience. In this aim they have generally succeeded; and it would be difficult for any one to discover a tangible basis for taking exception to our corps of teachers.

The latest effort of the board to elect a teacher to fill a vacancy was attended by the novelty of a "deadlock," which was only temporary, and mainly due to the absence of some of the directors. The candidate that was finally chosen, a graduate of our High school, a citizen of our town, has had ten years' continuous experience as a teacher in a neighboring state; and the testimonials that she presented to the board attesting her qualifications and success as a teacher were entirely satisfactory. Her election, I may properly add, was a victory for the seven members who voted for her, and who voted of their own free will and accord, without being asked to do so by any director whatever, and without resorting to any obscure method to prosper their design.

J. K. WILDMAN.

Bristol, Sep. 8, 1902.

The Bristol School Board.

Editor Gazette:—When the conduct of men in public office is actuated by motives which are tinctured by personal animus, and a thirst for revenge overshadows their actual duties, it is time for their constituents to consider the feasibility of making a change in the personality of their representatives. The citizens of Bristol want men in public office who have opinions of their own, and who will stand by their convictions, but they do not want men with such dwarfed intellects, that personal hatred usurps the throne of reason, and causes every petty difference in opinion to resolve itself into a personal contest to defeat a certain individual. There are men in public office whose only desire is to faithfully serve their constituents. They have opinions of their own and respect the view of others, but there are times when the actions of a minority, blinded by personal hatred and a thirst for revenge, are so unbecoming that in order to retain their self-respect, these men are obliged to subordinate their own opinions and convictions to the greater duty of preserving the dignity and honor of the organization. It is human for men to differ in their opinions and factions are bound to exist in all organizations, but if the minority would only resort to honorable methods, they would have no occasion for personal animoisty. Conduct that is censurable on the part of a minority only strengthens the power and influence of a majority.

TRUTH.

Not a Fish Man.

Penn's Manor, Sept. 9, 1902.

Editor Gazette:—Your Fallsington correspondent made a mistake in last week's items in which he said that the Fish candidate for committeeman in Lower Falls was elected. Now I am not a Fish or any other man's candidate but was elected to represent the Republicans of this district in the county committee and shall do so.

Sincerely yours,
SCHUYLER C. STOKES.

To Boom Cape May.

Anthony M. Zane, the well-known builder, of Philadelphia, and Frank G. Edwards, of Bristol, representing a syndicate, consummated what is probably the most important deal in real estate that has taken place on the New Jersey coast in many years. They have purchased a tract of more than 1100 acres of valuable beach-front property at Cape May and, if their plans for its development are carried out, over $1,000,000 will be expended on the land within the next year or two.

The design is to create at Cape May a high grade, fashionable resort, with magnificent streets, drives and hotels. The cost of part of the property already purchased was $100,000, which was paid in cash last week, after the West Jersey Title Company has spent several months in perfecting the title. An additional tract purchased by them will be settled for next Tuesday.

The big deal has been in progress for many months. Leading business men of Cape May took an active interest in bringing it to a head as the best means for the development of the place that had ever been presented. A proposition that Cape May should issue bonds for a large amount of improvement of the beach front of the purchasers should go ahead with the scheme of development received popular indorsement.

In addition to the land development there is a project for an extension of the trolley line which now runs from Cape May Point to Cape May and Sewell's Point. It will be continued to Schellenger's Landing, a popular fishing and yachting resort. The Philadelphia and Reading Railway Company is said to be behind this enterprise, and it is understood that the company has already secured control of the trolley line, which will make connection with the Reading's Cape May road.

"Eh, doctor," said a bailie of a small Scotch town to a friend, "be maun hae been an extraordinary man, Shakespeare. There are things hae come into his head that would never hae come into mine at a'."

Lodger: "Say, young feller, de bloke in de nex' parlor snores so fierce dat I can't git ter sleep." Landlord: "Back to de mattress, cully. Wot do youse want fer fifteen cents—er grand opery lullaby?"

A human body cremated produces on an average three pounds of ashes.

Roast Pig Supper.

The annual harvest home of the Tullytown Christian Church will be held in Red Men's Hall, September 20, 1902. Afternoon and evening. Roast Pig Supper.

Estey Organs and Pianos.

The Estey Piano and Organ Co., who are displaying a sample line of their instruments at 207 Mill street, Bristol, Pa., are extensive manufacturers of pianos and organs with a record and experience unexcelled, and a reputation unrestricted by the boundaries of the United States.

These instruments are famous everywhere for their durability, tone and quality.

The name Estey is a famillar name, and is common in every household throughout this country.

The Estey factories (organ and piano) are entirely distinct and seperate, one from the other.—Both are extensive and thoroughly equipped, from which a large and growing out put is constantly going out to meet the demands of an appreciative public.

The piano factory is located in New York City, the great centre of piano industry.

The employees are skilled and experienced artizans of the better classes.

Among the three hundred different piano manufactories in this country, the Estey paralells the more famous and popular.

The Estey piano is a strictly up-to-date, thoroughly constructed, high grade instrument. It ranks with the best It has stood the test of critics, and use and considerable abuse, for many years, so that today, with its many improvements, it holds an unchallenged place among the few superior and more desirable "makes" of this country.

Compared with other high-grade pianos the cost of the Estey is very reasonable, coming within the reach of persons of limited means

People in Bristol and vicinity, who have the Estey—and they are not a few—will testify of the superior merits of their pianos if enquired of.

The organ factory, located at Brattleboro, Vt., is one of the largest, if not the largest of its kind in the United States.

More than a half century ago Mr. Jacob Estey, the founder, commenced the business of manufacturing reed instruments in a very small way in the old grist mill in Brattleboro. Year by year, by wise and capable management the business increased and the instruments became more popular. Several times during the earlier history of the business larger quarters became necessary and were provided, to meet the growing demands until the present plant was projected and built, which for uniqueness and adaptability is a model.

For fifty-six years the Estey organ factories have been sending out instruments into all parts of the United States, into Canada, and across the waters into foreign countries, to adorn and gladden the homes of all classes of people.

No organ manufactory has equalled the Estey in the number of instruments made and sold, and no manufacturer has reached the acme of the Estey's acquired and honestly earned reputation as organ builders.

All that certain tract of land, situate in the township of Northampton, county of Bucks and state aforesaid, bounded and described according to a plot drawn by J. Pemberton Hutchinson, C. E., from his survey of July, 1892, and duly recorded in the Recorder's office at Doylestown, in said county, as follows, viz., Beginning at a stone in the middle of a public road known as the Bridgeton and Attleboro road, in line of land now or late of the estate of Martha Camm, thence by the same and lands of estate of David Feaster (formerly of Aaron Feaster) north five degrees and fifty-seven minutes east ninety-six perches and sixty-eight-hundredths of a perch to a corner of lands formerly part of the same tract with this and designated as Lot No. 3, on the aforesaid plan, recently sold to E. V. Murphy, thence along the southerly side of the same north eighty-seven degrees and twenty-nine minutes east sixty-six perches, and seventy-eight-hundredths of a perch to the middle of Highland avenue on said plan, in line of lands formerly also part of the same tract with this and recently conveyed to John Airy, thence by the same (1) along the middle of said avenue south two degrees and thirty-one minutes east six perches and eighty-eight-hundredths of a perch, and (2) along the southerly side of said tract north eighty-seven degrees and twenty-nine minutes east sixty-two perches and two-hundredths of a perch to the middle of another public road, thence along the middle of the same and by land of Ezekiel E. Krewson, formerly of Lewis Hagaman, (1) south thirteen degrees and thirty-five minutes east forty-six perches and fourteen-hundredths of a perch, and (2) south fifty-two degrees and fifty-five minutes east nineteen perches and six-tenths of a perch to a corner in the middle of the "New Buck Road," thence along the middle of the same and by lands of Jonathan K. Cornell, formerly of David Cornell south thirty-nine degrees west thirty-seven perches and ninety-seven one-hundredths to a corner of lands of Samuel D. Cornell, formerly also of David Cornell, thence by the same south eighty-six degrees and twenty-nine minutes west one hundred and forty-one perches and seventy-two one-hundredths of a perch to the place of beginning. Containing Eighty-one acres and one hundred and forty-eight and four-tenths square perches (81 A. 148 4-10 Per.) more or less. Excepting and reserving therefrom and thereout, all that lot or piece of land sold by Alfred B. Evans et al., administrators, etc., to The Philadelphia, Newtown and New York Railroad Company; beginning at a point in the middle of the "New Buck Road," thence extending along the south line of the "Right of way" of the said Philadelphia, Newtown and New York Railroad south seventy-four degrees and fifteen minutes west three hundred and forty feet (340 feet) to a point, thence by land of which this was a part south fifteen degrees and forty-five minutes east one hundred and ninety-four feet to the middle of the "New Buck Road," thence along the middle of the same north forty-four degrees and thirty minutes east three hundred and ninety-two feet to the place of beginning. Containing three-fourths of an acre of land, more or less.

Seized and taken in execution as the property of Harry Forrest Webb, mortgagor, and Alphonsus T. Hauck, real owner of land charged; and to be sold by

B. FRANK HOBENSACK, Sheriff.

BASE BALL

BLOOMSDALE WINS EASILY.

Bloomsdale easily defeated Parkland at Bloomsdale last Saturday by the score of 10 to 6. Parkland could do scarcely anything with Bunting's delivery except in the sixth and ninth innings, when four bases on balls were given, and three of these afterward scored. On the other hand Campbell and Perry were easy for Bloomsdale. Bunting played a good game and fielded his position in great style. Britton, Allen, Dugan and Leigh batted well. Landreth accepted 17 out of 18 chances. For Parkland Perry's batting and the all around work of Perry, Coar and L. Evans were the features.

Next Saturday Bloomsdale will play the second game with the Bucks County Country Club at Langhorne. The score:

AN EXCITING CONTEST.

After nearly losing the game by errors and Quinn's base on balls, Good Will on last Saturday by a hard up-hill fight defeated Somerton by the score of 8 to 7. Quinn started to pitch for Good Will but he lacked control and this, coupled with errors, gave the visitors most of their runs, not one of them being earned. Callahan relieved Quinn in the ninth after the score had been tied and finished the game in fine style, allowing but one hit and no runs. The score was tied by Good Will in the ninth with three runs, when Quinn singled, stole second and scored on Callahan's hit, who batted for Snyder. McEuen beat out an infield hit and Phillips scored both runners with a single to centrefield. Good Will scored the winning run in the twelfth on Barton's single, a stolen base, two bases on balls and an error by the pitcher, the latter base on balls forcing in the winning run. Somerton scored three runs in the seventh on two bases on balls, a hit, an error and a passed ball. Quinn's batting and Callahan's and Quinn's base running and Fletcher's fielding were the features. ATHLETICS LOSE.

On last Saturday the Bristol A. C. journeyed to Florence to play the Rosebud team but the latter team was well padded with Florence Athletic players.

The Florence team had no trouble to defeat the Bristol boys, the game ending with a score of 18 to 6. The features of the game were Chrispy's pitching and Elliott's batting for Florence and Waters catching, Sheppard's batting and great one-hand catch and Allen's pitching, striking out eleven men.

DIAMOND DOTS.

Britton has improved greatly in batting and fielding.

Waters was absent on Saturday and Leigh covered right field.

Bunting leads Bloomsdale in batting, while Britton has scored the most runs.

Dugan played a nice game at second.

Thornton is back with Bloomsdale.

Good Advice.

The most miserable beings in the world are those suffering from Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. More than seventy-five per cent of the people in the United States are afflicted with these two diseases and their effects: such as sour stomach, sick headache, habitual costiveness, palpitation of the heart, heartburn, water brash, gnawing and burning pains at the pit of the stomach, yellow skin, coated tongue and disagreeable taste in the mouth, coming up of food after eating, low spirits, etc. Go to your druggist and get a bottle of August Flower for 75 cents. Two doses will relieve you. Try it. Get Green's Special Almanac. At J. Edward Wright's and Emlen Martin's drug stores, Bristol, and E. E. Johnson's, Tullytown.

LOCAL MISCELLANY.

The revised list shows that there are 399 voters in Newtown borough.

The September meeting of Southampton Farmers' Club will meet with Watson Vansant and wife at Feasterville, on Saturday evening the 13th.

Work was begun Thursday on the construction of the public schoolhouse at Ambler. It will be a two-story brick building, with six rooms. The cost will amount to about $12,000.

The wedding of Miss M. Ella Morris, of Dolington, and William J. McClellan, of Somerton, took place Thursday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, in St. Andrew's Catholic Church, Newtown.

A syndicate is introducing ordinances for sewering Quakertown, Perkasie, Sellersville, Souderton, Lansdale, North Wales and Ambler. Another syndicate is presenting gas ordinances to the councils of the same towns.

Drunken Indians have been considerably in evidence about Newtown for the past two or three Saturday evenings. The Indians are from the Carlisle School, and it is a serious offence for any one to sell or furnish them rum.

A meeting of the managers of the ball teams in Bucks and Montgomery counties will be held in the near future when an effort will be made to organize a league for next year, each team playing a certain number of games. This would tend to revive the interest taken in base ball and exciting times would be in store for the lovers of the national game.

A movement that will increase the domains of the borough of Norristown and one that will give quiet a number of children of Norriton township the privilege of entering the schools of the borough, was begun Thursday forenoon when a petition was filed to be presented to court asking for the annexation of a portion of Norriton township in Norristown.

Eli J. Witmer purchased the old established Eagle Hotel, at Quakertown, on Wednesday, September 3d, from Mrs. Rosa A. Haney, widow of the late William Haney. The hotel has been a licensed house for about fifty years and has always enjoyed a good business. Mr. Witmer, the new proprietor, has been connected with the house the last eleven years as bar clerk.

The chestnut crop in this part of the State will be very large this year, and according to experts the nuts will be well developed and free from worms. Abundant moisture, cool nights and slow development tend to make chestnuts fat and sweet and the some weather conditions are favorable to the full development of walnuts, hazel nuts, hickory nuts and butter nuts.

Rabbits are reported to be so plentiful in some parts of Upper Makefield township that they are voted a nuisance by many of the farmers and truckers. It is thought plans of extermination, similar to those practiced in Australia, will have to soon be inaugurated. They are destroying young canteloupes by biting through the rind to the interior, and playing sad havoc with the cabbage and tomatoes.

Every man and two-thirds of the women present at the meeting of Pomona Grange of Bucks and Philadelphia counties held on Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Preston, in Solebury, expressed their opinion that all members of the gentler sex should have the rights of suffrage. When the matter was put to a vote the dissenting ones said they thought there were duties in a woman's sphere of labor which women should give their entire attention to for the welfare of the home.

While plowing for fall seeding on the old Taylor farm, along the river, at Taylorsville, a large number of jasper spear points and flint arrowheads have been brought to the surface. They are in almost perfect state. The ground was once the camping place of the Lenape Indians, the chief of which tribe is buried near there. Indian hatchets are being found by relic hunters, Joseph Howell having a large collection. The heavy rains have loosened the earth from the arrowheads and spears and they are easily found.

It is stated that John J. Steinhilber, of Langhorne, through his attorneys, Gilkeson & James, has instituted a suit against the Newtown Electric Street Railway Company for $1000 damages for injury to his team on August 13. On that day Mr. Steinhilber's wagon was struck by a passing car on Main street, Hulmeville, causing his horses to run away and resulting in considerable damage to the team. An effort to secure an amicable settlement with the company through Justice of the Peace Keen failed. The prosecutor claims that the company refused to make any settlement.

AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION PROPOSED TO THE CITIZENS OF THIS COMMONWEALTH FOR THEIR APPROVAL OR REJECTION BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA, PUBLISHED BY ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH, IN PURSUANCE OF ARTICLE XVIII OF THE CONSTITUTION.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to section ten of article one of the Constitution, so that a discharge of a jury for failure to agree or other necessary cause shall not work an acquittal.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following be proposed as an amendment to the Constitution; that is to say, that section ten of article one, which reads as follows:

"No person shall, for any indictable offense, be proceeded against criminally by information, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia, when in actual service, in time of war or public danger, or by leave of the court for oppression or misdemeanor in office. No person shall, for the same offense, be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall private property be taken or applied to public use, without authority of law and without just compensation being first made or secured," be amended so as to read as follows:

No person shall, for any indictable offense, be proceeded against criminally by information, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia, when in actual service in time of war or public danger, or by leave of the court for oppression or misdemeanor in office. No person shall, for the same offense, be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; but a discharge of the jury for failure to agree, or other necessary cause, shall not work an acquittal. Nor shall private property be taken or applied to public use, without authority of law and without just compensation being first made or secured.

NOT A LOVE KNOT.

Embarrassing Experience of a Woman in a Street Car.

A handsomely dressed lady riding recently in a crowded Amsterdam avenue car was fortunate enough to have a seat, but when nearing her destination she noticed that the lacing of her shoe was unfastened. It was the work of a moment, but a very trying moment, to stoop down and knot it securely. When this was accomplished, her hat veil readjusted and her gloves once more carefully put on, it was time to signal the conductor. This she did and after two vain attempts to rise looked around indignantly to find the cause of her retarded movements. She came face to face with a very irate gentleman who had been sitting next to her.

"Madam, madam, where are you trying to take me?" he demanded.

"I—you!" she stammered.

"Yes. Look there!" He pointed to the floor, and in an instant she had grasped the situation. By mistake in groping she had found the lacing of his shoe, which she had taken for the other end of her own, and had fastened them so carefully together that it took the gentleman quite five minutes to effect a release, under the amused glances of the other occupants of the car, which had traveled twice that number of blocks before the lady was ready to give another signal.—New York Times.

A Chinese Proverb.

An attache of one of the legations in Peking at the time when two continents were in a high state of tension was a guest at the Army and Navy club in New York a few evenings since, says Leslie's Weekly. "I had occasion," he said, "to meet Li Hung Chang, who, despite the heavy suspense overhanging his country, seemed to be, to us, painfully cheerful. One of the party present, a man in authority, referred to Li's merriment.

"The interpreter mentioned it to his master, who requested him to make the most beautiful reply I ever heard. 'Tell him,' said the interpreter, quoting his master, 'that the Chinese have a proverb which I commend to all in all conditions: You cannot prevent birds of sorrow flying over your head, but you can keep them from stopping and building nests in your hair.'

"I immediately wrote it down, so I know the quotation is correct."

American "Prudishness."

In the face of foreign criticism and in the face of one's own dismay at existing conditions with regard to divorce, we still sympathize with the retort administered to an alien critic of our people who had declared in private conversation that America seemed to be afflicted with the disease of prudishness. The answer was somewhat in these words (the incident occurred several years ago); "Yes, probably it is true that Americans are prudish; but, considering the revelations that have recently taken place concerning certain circles in London and considering the condition of a good part of the Parisian stage and of French literature, I, for one, am willing that we should pay that price for the knowledge that, on the whole, Americans are the decentest people in regard to the relations of the sexes on the face of the globe."—Century.

The Sun as a Timepiece.

In a Georgia justice court a colored witness was asked to name the time a difficulty occurred.

"Hit wuz in fodder pullin' time, suh," he replied.

"You don't understand me," said the judge. "I mean what time was it by the clock?"

"Dey warn't no clock dar, suh," said the witness.

"Well, by the sun, then?"

"Now," exclaimed the witness triumphantly, "sence you hez come right down ter business I'll tell you plain. Ef de sun had been a-shinin' hit would er been 'bout two hours en a half by sun, but ez de sun didn't show his face 'tall dat day I couldn't say fer sartin des what time hit wuz!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Wrists and Temperature.

Actors and actresses say that if one of their number faints cold water is poured on the wrists. The result is always immediate recovery. Athletes engaged in feats of endurance understand the importance of keeping the wrists cool in summer and warm in winter, but the general public goes on wearing tight gloves and heavy cuffs during the dog days and then wonders why it is hot. Taking off one's gloves, especially in church, makes quite a surprising difference in one's temperature. Tight sleeves, above all things, make the wearer hot in oppressive weather.

Manners In Berlin.

One of the leading tenors in Berlin was engaged to sing at a large soiree by a distinguished lady in society. When he had finished, there was much applause, and a number of ladies surrounded him. Compliments to the singer were being enthusiastically paid when the hostess came up, joined in the chorus of thanks and recognition and in the presence of her guests handed him a closed envelope. The tenor did not lose his presence of mind, but quietly opened the envelope, took out some banknotes, counted them over slowly and carefully and then said to his hostess: "Many thanks, my lady. It is quite correct!"—London Answers.

Innocent Girl.

Sarcastic Father—Julia, that young man Smily has been here three nights in succession, and it has been nearly midnight when he left. Hadn't you better invite him to bring his trunk and make his home with us?

Innocent Daughter—Oh, papa! May I? It was just what he wanted, but he was too bashful to ask you. He'll be delighted when I tell him this evening.

Leading Him On.

He—Would your mother let you go to the theater without a chaperon?

She—Not unless I was engaged.—Brooklyn Life.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Fantastic stories have been written of magic mirrors in which the future was revealed. If such a thing were possible many a bright-faced bride would shrink from the revelation of herself, stripped of all her loveliness. If there is one thing which would make a woman shrink from marriage it is to see the rapid physical deterioration which comes to so many wives. The cause is generally due to womanly diseases.

Lost health and lost comeliness are restored by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures irregularity and dries weakening drains. It heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

"It is with the greatest pleasure that I tell you what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery' have done for me," writes Mrs. Emma L. Bankes, of 1952 North 7th Street, Harrisburg, Pa. "They have done me a world of good. I had female weakness for six years; sometimes would feel so badly I did not know what to do, but I found relief at last, thanks to Dr. Pierce for his kind advice. I have this medicine still in my house and will always keep it."

If you are led to the purchase of "Favorite Prescription" because of its remarkable cures of other women, do not accept a substitute which has none of these cures to its credit.

A Certain Cure for Dysentery and Diarrhoea.

"Some years ago I was one of a party that intended making a long bicycle trip," says F. L. Taylor, of New Albany, Bradford county, Pa. "I was taken suddenly with diarrhoea, and was about to give up the trip, when editor Ward, of the Laceyville Messenger, suggested that I take a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I purchased a bottle and took two doses, one before starting and one on the route. I made the trip successfully, and never felt any ill effect. Again last summer I was almost completely run down with an attack of dysentery. I bought a bottle of this same remedy, and this time one dose cured me." For sale by Emlen Martin.

Take Care of the Stomach.

The man or woman whose digestion is perfect and whose stomach performs its every function is never sick. Kodol cleanses, purifies and sweetens the stomach and cures positively and permanently all stomach troubles, indigestion and dyspepsia. It is the wonderful reconstructive tonic that is making so many sick people well and weak people strong by conveying to their bodies all of the nourishment in the food they eat. Rev. J. H. Holladay, of Holladay, Miss., writes: Kodol has cured me. I consider it the best remedy I ever used for dyspepsia and stomach troubles. I was given up by physicians, Kodol saved my life. Take it after meals. J. Edward Wright, Central Pharmacy, 303 Mill street.

Beware the Knife.

No profession has advanced more rapidly of late than surgery, but it should not be used except where absolutely necessary. In cases of piles for example, it is seldom needed. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cures quickly and permanently. Unequalled for cuts, burns, bruises, wounds, skin diseases. Accept no counterfeits. "I was so troubled with bleeding piles that I lost much blood and strength," says J. C. Phillips, Paris, Ill., "DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me in a short time." Soothes and heals. J. Edward Wright, Central Pharmacy, 303 Mill street.

Water Cure for Chronic Constipation.

Take two cups of hot water half an hour before each meal and just before going to bed, also a drink of water, hot or cold, about two hours after each meal. Take lots of outdoor exercise—walk, ride, drive. Make a regular habit of this and in many cases chronic constipation may be cured without the use of any medicine. When a purgative is required take something mild and gentle like Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For sale by Emlen Martin.

A Sad Disappointment.

Ineffective liver medicine is a disappointment, but you don't want to purge, strain and break the glands of the stomach and bowels. DeWitt's Little Early Risers never disappoint. They cleanse the system of all poison and putrid matter and do it so gently that one enjoys the pleasant effects. They are a tonic to the liver. Cure biliousness, torpid liver and prevent fever. J. Edward Wright, Central Pharmacy, 303 Mill street.

Lingering Summer Colds.

Don't let a cold run at this season. Summer colds are the hardest kind to cure and if neglected may linger along for months. A long siege like this will pull down the strongest constitution. One Minute Cough Cure will break up the attack at once. Safe, sure, acts at once. Cures coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, all throat and lung troubles. The children like it. J. Edward Wright, Central Pharmacy, 303 Mill street.

A Communication.

Mr. Editor:—Allow me to speak a few words in favor of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I suffered for three years with the bronchitis and could not sleep at nights. I tried several doctors and various patent medicines, but could get nothing to give me any relief until my wife got a bottle of this valuable medicine, which has completely relieved me.—W. S. Brockman, Bagnell, Mo. This remedy is for sale by Emlen Martin.

Putnam Fadeless Dyes do not spot, streak or give your goods an unevenly dyed appearance. Sold by Serrill Douglass, John K. Young.

Came Near Being a Cripple.

Josh Westhafer, of Loogootee, Ind., is a poor man, but he says he would not be without Chamberlain's Pain Balm if it cost five dollars a bottle, for it saved him from being a cripple. No external application is equal to this liniment for stiff and swollen joints, contracted muscles, stiff neck, sprains and rheumatic and muscular pains. It has also cured numerous cases of partial paralysis. It is for sale by Emlen Martin.

For a bad taste in the mouth take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For sale by Emlen Martin.

Nothing Like Oil.

"In dealing with man, remember that a spoonful of oil will go farther than a gallon of vinegar." The same may be said of children. There is nothing so good for children as the old-fashioned castor oil. However much they may abhor it, it is their best medicine for disorders of the bowels. In the more severe cases of diarrhoea and dysentery, however, Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy should be given after the oil operates, and a quick cure is sure to follow. For sale by Emlen Martin.
